Planning Commission Chairman Ron Smith To Run For Lancaster City Council

LANCASTER—A broad base of community leaders came together today in support of City Planning Commission Chairman Ron Smith as he announced his candidacy for the Lancaster City Council.

“The people of Lancaster deserve honest and effective representation that delivers results,” declared Smith. “As your Councilman, I will bring hands-on leadership to City Hall.”

“Building a better future for Lancaster means protecting our citizens from crime,” continued Smith, a former law enforcement officer in the Antelope Valley. “We need tough action to drive gangs out of our neighborhoods, parks and shopping centers.”

“I also want to make City Hall more accessible and accountable to the public,” said Smith. “That’s why I worked successfully to create a citizens architectural and design committee that will enhance our quality of life. Working together we can build a great future for our city.”

“Ron is truly dedicated to our community,” said Antelope Valley College Trustee Betty Wienke. “He is a bridge builder who brings people together and develops innovative solutions to problems. He was instrumental in getting Measure R passed for the college.”

“Local residents can count on Ron Smith to support the tough measures needed to reduce crime in Lancaster,” said Sheriff’s Captain and Antelope Valley High School Board Trustee Tom Pigott.

“Ron Smith has been an outstanding leader on the Planning Commission. He has energy and vision we need on the City Council,” stated former Lancaster Mayor Barbara Little.

Other community leaders supporting Ron Smith’s candidacy include: Rex Moen, longtime District Director for the late Senator William J. “Pete” Knight; former Mayor Barbara Little; Community Impact Committee Chairman Cecil Swetland; Director of Grace Resources Steve Baker; and local business owners Mary Faux, Rita Burlison and Hernando & Fran Marroquin.

A long time resident of the Antelope Valley, Smith worked as a Deputy Sheriff and Deputy Marshal for 15½ years and today is a graphic design instructor at Antelope Valley College. Ron has been married to his wife Jamie for 19 years and has four children.
